Jordan is no stranger to the Mid-South Series. He has been racing the series since his time in the Junior A class where he won 2 Youth Championships. Jordan has a great attitude and is sure to be collecting more #1 plates and titles in the future!

Tell us a little about the early riding / racing years: Well I first started racing around the age of six doing local stuff. I would do stuff like flat tracks and local motocross races.

How does it feel to win a Pro Class Championship in the Mid-South Series? It's pretty sweet! I was so close last season and that was my goal this year.

Who did you battle with the most last season? Well, it had to be Dustin Gibson and Jeff Cregg

What are you doing this summer? I've just been hanging out and doing some riding.

What lies ahead? Well, hopefully to be Mid-South Overall Champion again this year and to be overall amateur and win the open A class in the GNCC's.
